Casey Morovitz, Kristin Krings both interested in being on the board as parent members

The agenda included an overview of the team-based leadership model changes, the environmental education programming, and the proposed changes for next year. Working on proposed schedule/classes for next year. Will revamp EE Wednesdays, so can be more flexible with the weather, Monday through Friday mornings will be core classes, afternoons will be a block schedule that allows teaching planning time, EE will be worked in during the block schedule and more integrated into the regular curriculum. Afternoon classes will be more activity based. Some classes will be offered only every other year, which may need some adjustments in math and science for students who come mid-stream and missing credits. This schedule will allow us to reach more students in the arts and music and performing arts, physical education (indoor/outdoor), allows us to offer shop classes, life skills, trades. Adds some predictability but also flexibility.
